To Whom It May Concern:

While I am long overdue in thanking you, I send my gratitude because you deserve it. Last summer, on July 13, my husband and I celebrated our marriage with a reception in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Syracuse. His name has unfortunately left my memory, but your DJ proved to be the invisible centerpiece of our night.

From the moment my husband and I were introduced to our final farewell, your DJ set the mood for every mini-event within the evening. His fluidity from one moment to the next was perfect; his timing was perfect; his selections were perfect. Yet no one noticed him. Your DJ never got in the way and always kept the party rocking. My husband and I could not have asked for anything more from your company. Music solidifies memories, and all of our memories from that evening remain happy ones that we revisit regularly.

I truly apologize for the belatedness of this letter, but I wanted to express my thanks. My husband and I will always remember what your company contributed in the creation of our magical evening.

Sincerely,

Aileen Monroe
